

The Removal of Filipino Subjects in the Tertiary Education: Level of Perception among the Professionals

A Research Paper Presented to the Department of Languages, Mass Communication, and Humanities
Central Philippine University
Iloilo City

In Partial Fulfilment of the Requirements in English 323 (Research Paper in English Language and Literature)

Stephanie Nicole A. Souribio

April 2017

The Removal Filipino Subjects in the Tertiary Education: Level of Perception among the Professionals

Abstract

Stephanie Nicole A. Souribio

This study aimed to determine the level of perceptions about the removal of Filipino subjects in tertiary level among the professionals. Specifically, the study sought answers to the question: Does the study aim to determine the differences in the level of perception about the removal of Filipino subjects in the tertiary level among professionals in Barangay Café, Santa Barbara, Iloilo, whom classified according to their sex, age, profession and years of service? Conducted in March 2017, the study involved 150 randomly selected professionals in Barangay Café, Santa Barbara, Iloilo through convenient sampling. The findings of the present investigation included that there were differences in the level of perception about the removal of Filipino subjects in the tertiary level among professionals in Barangay Café, Santa Barbara, Iloilo. As a whole, slightly less than one half of the professionals in Barangay Café, Santa Barbara, Iloilo agreed on the removal of Filipino subjects in tertiary education and slightly less than one fourth of the professionals was strongly agreed and neutral on the removal of Filipino subjects in tertiary education.